STOP 1: School of Graduate Studies (SGS), 63 St George St.

The SGS is where you can find registration and enrolment support, academic and financial advising, as well as other workshops and supports designed specifically for graduate students.

STOP 2: Hart House, 7 Hart House Circle

Hart House is an inclusive centre for experiential education where students find ways to connect with each other and the broader world through engagement with the arts, dialogue and wellness. At Hart House you will find everything from social justice-based community talks, to art exhibits, to one of the University's recreational facilities.

STOP 3: Robarts Library, 130 St George St.

Robarts is the largest library on St. George campus and houses the main social sciences and humanities collections. Librarians offer in-person workshops and supports as well as help online through the 'Ask a Librarian' chat feature.

Students with children can register to use the Family Study Space and the Centre for Teaching Support & Innovation runs many programs to support and train Teaching Assistants.

STOP 4: 21 Sussex Clubhouse

21 Sussex Avenue houses the following:

Student Engagement: This is the physical location of Orientation, Transition and Engagement, Mentorship and Peer Programs, and Clubs and Leadership Development. They offer lots of programs to help you make friends and gain valuable skills and experience.

Campus Clubs and Groups: Many campus clubs have physical locations here. Feel free to visit the Clubs Help Desk to learn more about clubs!

The Sexual and Gender Diversity Office: The SGDO supports 2SLGBTQ+ students on all three campuses through social events, educational workshops, and confidential support around sexual and gender diversity related discrimination.

Campus Safety Office: They provide safety and security resources to the University community. The 21 Sussex lobby serves as a safe buy and sell exchange zone for exchanges/sales arranged online.

STOP 5: Grad House Residence, 60 Harbord St.

This is a residence dedicated to students in graduate studies or second-entry professional faculties.

STOP 6: Athletic Centre, 55 Harbord St.

The largest recreational facility on campus has two pools, an indoor running track, drop-in sports, strength and conditioning gym spaces, group fitness workouts, instructional lessons and more. Bring your TCard to access the space.

STOP 7: Family Care Office, 215 Huron St.

Access confidential guidance, support, referrals and resources on family-related issues and get advice from fellow student parents through their Peer Mentorship Program.

STOP 8: Cumberland House –Centre for International Experience (CIE), 33 St George St.

International and exchange students can find resources and advisors for supports with immigration, health insurance and more. This is also the place to learn about international study opportunities and attend workshops and social events to support intercultural learning and meet new people.

STOP 9: Accessibility Services, 455 Spadina Ave.

Speak confidentially with a staff member to register with Accessibility Services and learn about graduate-specific programs and peer groups to help you navigate graduate school with a disability.

STOP 10: Bancroft Avenue

The Centre for Community Partnerships is located at 569 Spadina Avenue (Koffler House). Get connected to community-engaged learning and research opportunities.

The Multi-Faith Centre is located at 569 Spadina Avenue (Koffler House). Find inclusive spaces to pray and meditate, as well as events to connect with diverse communities, and opportunities to nurture your spiritual journey.

The University of Toronto Graduate Students' Union is located at 16 Bancroft Avenue. Learn about your health and dental insurance, get involved in issue-based campaigns, and/or use the GSU pub, gym, and lounge spaces.

First Nations House and Indigenous Student Services are located at 563 Spadina avenue (Borden Building North). Get connected with social events and supports throughout the year.
